American Academy of Pediatrics introduces Automated Attendant

Because the Academy receives almost 700,000 calls daily, its communications system has been installed to answer calls more quickly. When there is an overflow of calls, a recorded message will help callers route their inquiries to the correct department. The message states: “Thank you for calling the American Academy of Pediatrics. If you know the extension of the person you are calling, please enter that exten- sion on your touch-tone phone now. If the following four options do not meet your needs, or if you are calling from a rotary dial phone, please hold the line so an operator may assist you.” “To make or change an airline reserva- tion: press 12.” “To place an order for professional manuals or patient education brochures: press 13.” “For questions regarding membership dues: press 14.” “For information regarding the Annual or Spring Meetings: press 15.”

The Academy’s telephone number remains unchanged at (800) 433-9016 or (708) 228-5055.

National Family Sexuality Education Month

The Academy, the Planned Parenthood Federation of America and 47 other child health advocacy groups will observe the 1990 National Family Sexuality Education Month in October.

As the event's key sponsor, Planned Parenthood will encourage parents to communicate with children about sexuality. As part of family sexuality education month, libraries and book stores will be encouraged to exhibit useful reading materials for parents and children. Local sponsors are expected to create "parent packs" of materials that parents may use when talking to their children about sex.

For more information about National Family Sexuality Education Month, contact: Planned Parenthood Federation of America, 810 Seventh Ave., NY, NY, 10019; (212) 541-7800.
