Frequently, it is necessary to modify the wording of classified ads. These changes are generally made in medical and with the regulations of various federal and/or state commissions against discrimination or because they might be interpreted as being unlawful or in conflict with professional standards of medical practice.

Advertisements for employment containing specifications as to race, creed, color, age, religion, gender, ethnic origin or national origin may be unlawful and professionally improper. Accordingly, discriminatory wording is not acceptable in AAP News.

Other phrases for publication in various advertising classifications which might be interpreted as being unlawful and in conflict with professional standards of medical practice could include: "Complete list of patients' records for sale;" the offer of rebates or "kickbacks," wording which could be interpreted as derogatory or defamatory to other physicians, the misrepresentation of expected skills or job requirements.

These advertising modifications are made to maintain a classified section that is professionally responsible, lawfully, scientifically and free of discrimination.
