Keynote Speaker

Nationally syndicated newspaper columnist Bob Greene will focus on children's rights during the 1996 AAP Spring Session keynote address.

Greene's Chicago Tribune column is syndicated to more than 200 other newspapers throughout the United States. He has authored nine books, including his latest work, Rebound: The Odyssey of Michael Jordan.

He has received numerous awards, including the National Headliner Award, and the Peter Lisagor Award for "exemplary journalism."

The keynote address will be held Saturday, April 13, at 8:30 a.m. at the Hyatt Regency Chicago, a departure from the address' past presentation day of Monday.

AAP Family Program and Brunch

The AAP Family Program & Brunch features musician/songwriter Mike Nobel, Saturday, April 13 at 10:45 a.m. at the Hyatt Regency Chicago.

Nobel will perform his "Color Me Green" songs, which carry the message that everyone can play a role in preserving the environment for future generations.

Tickets are $10 per adult and complimentary for children under 13. To order, indicate the quantity of tickets needed on the advance registration form in the 1996 Spring Session Preliminary Program. For more information, call the AAP Division of Meeting & Travel Services at 800/433-9016, ext. 6883 (MEET).

American Academy of Pediatrics Spring Session
April 13 - 16, 1996
Hyatt Regency Chicago
Chicago, Illinois

SEE CHICAGO...
On Your Own

April is a good time of the year for sightseeing in Chicago. Visit the John G. Shedd Aquarium, home of the world's largest indoor marine-mammal pavilion. If the weather is clear, don't miss the skyline on the 103rd floor of the Sears Tower and a breathtaking view of the Windy City and four other states. A mid-April must is the exquisite Spring Flower Show at the Lincoln Park Conservatory.

Work out and see the fabulous lake shore at the same time — jog through Lake Shore Park or Lincoln Park. Or, enjoy a walk around Navy Pier and browse among quaint and intriguing shops.

Top off an evening at Zanies Comedy Club and see the country's top stand-up acts. Beware...people in the first two rows are fair game for head-hunting comedians! Or, if you prefer great jazz, stop in at Andy's for Jazz at Five.

...Or with Your Kids

Kids of all ages love Chicago. They can watch exciting Sky Shows at Adler Planetarium. Or, visit the Great Ape House, the Farm in the Zoo, and the Children's Zoo at Lincoln Park Zoo. They'll love being where petting the animals is allowed and encouraged!

The Chicago Children's Museum combines education with fun. Exhibits include the "Art and Science of Bubbles" and "City Hospital." Stop by the museum's working television studio where kids can be newscasters or camera operators. Watch your child's artistry in the Arts Abounds Studio.

Come to Chicago, "Your Kind of Town..." Fill your memory book to overflowing.

American Academy of Pediatrics

Please send me registration information about the 1996 Spring Session in Chicago.

Name _____________________________  AAP ID# _____________________________
Address _________________________________________________________________
City __________________________ State _______ Zip ____________________________
Mail this coupon to: American Academy of Pediatrics, Division of Meeting and Travel Services PO Box 927, Elk Grove Village, IL 60009-0927
Or Call: 800/433-9016, ext MEET (6338)