Developmental, behavioral health topics featured in Phoenix

Head Southwest for a comprehensive review of developmental-behavioral pediatric medicine with DB PREP Nov. 28 to Dec. 2 at the Sheraton Phoenix Downtown.

Geared toward pediatric subspecialists and primary care physicians, DB PREP includes topics found in the major headings of the content outline developed by the American Board of Pediatrics for the Subspecialty Certifying Examination in Developmental-Behavioral Pediatrics. Coding and payment sessions specifically for this field of medicine also are offered.

Pleasant weather and plenty of activities make it an ideal time of year to visit Phoenix. Desert mountain scenery serves as a backdrop as visitors explore the outdoors, golf, shop and relax.

Course highlights include:

- “Complex Cases: Evaluation and Management of the Child Who Presents with Global Developmental Delay,” with Andrea L. Gropman, M.D., FAAP;
- “Developmental and Behavioral Screening: How to Make it Happen,” with Barbara J. Howard, M.D., FAAP;
