

CME

Virginia, Chicago host reviews of child abuse, infectious diseases

Seeking to get away and earn continuing medical education (CME) in July? For those interested in intensive reviews and updates on child abuse pediatrics or infectious diseases, look no further than PREP:CAP and PREP:ID. Both CME courses offer the latest evidence-based research from top experts.

Visit Norfolk, Va., July 11-14 for PREP:Child Abuse Pediatrics at the Sheraton Norfolk Waterside Hotel. A keynote lecture by AAP Immediate Past President Robert W. Block, M.D., FAAP, focuses on “The Effects of Child Abuse and Neglect: Toxic Stress and the Developing Brain.”

Other topics and speakers are:

- “Abusive Head Trauma: Controversies, Challenges and Cases,” with Christopher S. Greeley, M.D., FAAP, and Shelly Martin, M.D., FAAP;
- “Child Protective Services and the Legal System: A Primer,” and “Intimate Partner Violence and Family Violence,” with Megan M. Letson, M.D., M.Ed., FAAP;
- “Ear, Nose and Throat Findings in Child Abuse,” with Shelly Martin, M.D., FAAP;
- “Pediatric and Adolescent Forensic Evidence and Documentation in Cases of Sexual Abuse,” with Robert Shapiro, M.D., FAAP;
- “Sexual Abuse: Offenders” and “Sexual Abuse: Overview and Epidemiology,” with Suzanne P. Starling, M.D., FAAP; and
- “Sexual Abuse: Post-Assault Medical Prophylaxis,” with Matthew Cox, M.D., FAAP.

Join infectious disease experts at the Hyatt Regency Chicago July 22-27. Topics and faculty include:

- “Antibacterial Agents,” with John S. Bradley, M.D., FAAP;
- “Bone and Joint Infections,” with Kathleen M. Gutierrez, M.D., FAAP;
