Correction

In the May Parent Plus column, “Why you should say yes to the test: newborn procedures explained” (http://bit.ly/1FBYfdF), the number of U.S. newborns born with critical congenital heart disease each year should have been listed as 18 of every 10,000.